

John
Strasen

March 2004: John, a former high school math and computer programming teacher from Washington, Missouri, began service as translation advisor to the Dhimba Translation and Literacy Project in Opuwo, Namibia. The assignment was to assist with the completion of the translation of the New Testament into the Dhimba language.

December 2010: the Dhimba New Testament was finished and sent to the typesetters. We prayerfully hope that the printed New Testament is in the hands of the Dhimba people before the end of 2011.

February 2011: John returned to the United States to begin a long-awaited furlough. Throughout 2011 and early into 2012, John visited churches and individuals to raise awareness and the need for prayer and financial support for his next term of service with Lutheran Bible Translators. He also spent three months in continuing education to prepare for his next assignment.

March 2012: John arrived in Botswana. He is currently assisting with the translation of the Shekgalagari New Testament.

Lutheran Bible Translators

Lutheran Bible Translators (LBT) helps bring people to faith in Jesus Christ by making the Word of God available to those who do not yet have it in the language of their hearts.

LBT is committed to the Scriptures as God's primary means for bringing about life-changing encounters with Jesus Christ. To be effective, the Word of God must be accessible in a language and media that people most readily comprehend.

There are more than 6900 languages in the world. More than 400 million people who speak 4500 of these languages can not read Scripture in the language of their hearts. Most can not read at all. So on going literacy programs play a large part in our ministry.

To accomplish our goal, LBT partners with individual Lutherans, a wide range of Lutheran church bodies, Bible translation organizations in North America and around the world, many other Christians, and service and educational organizations and ministries.

LBT recruits missionaries and then trains, equips and helps support them. Thousands of individuals and hundreds of volunteers provide support to individual missionaries and to LBT through prayer and through their generous, ongoing financial donations.

Since our founding in 1964, through the grace of God, LBT missionaries have helped complete over 30 New Testament translations.

These translations bring Christ's Good News of Salvation, and literacy, to more than 7 million people. Nationals and local churches in host countries play a vital, ongoing role in this work.

At present, LBT missionaries are serving in 15 countries working on 31 Bible translation and 54 Scripture use or linguistic programs.

LUTHERAN BIBLE TRANSLATORS, INC.

USA: PO Box 2050
Aurora, IL 60507-2050
(630) 897-0660
1-800-532-4253
Email: Info@LBT.org
Website: www.LBT.org

CANADA: Box 934
Kitchener, Ontario N2G 4E3
(519) 742-3361

John
Strasen

March 2004: John, a former high school math and computer programming teacher from Washington, Missouri, began service as translation advisor to the Dhimba Translation and Literacy Project in Opuwo, Namibia. The assignment was to assist with the completion of the translation of the New Testament into the Dhimba language.

December 2010: the Dhimba New Testament was finished and sent to the typesetters. We prayerfully hope that the printed New Testament is in the hands of the Dhimba people before the end of 2011.

February 2011: John returned to the United States to begin a long-awaited furlough. Throughout 2011 and early into 2012, John visited churches and individuals to raise awareness and the need for prayer and financial support for his next term of service with Lutheran Bible Translators. He also spent three months in continuing education to prepare for his next assignment.

March 2012: John arrived in Botswana. He is currently assisting with the translation of the Shekgalagari New Testament.

Lutheran Bible Translators

Lutheran Bible Translators (LBT) helps bring people to faith in Jesus Christ by making the Word of God available to those who do not yet have it in the language of their hearts.

LBT is committed to the Scriptures as God's primary means for bringing about life-changing encounters with Jesus Christ. To be effective, the Word of God must be accessible in a language and media that people most readily comprehend.

There are more than 6900 languages in the world. More than 400 million people who speak 4500 of these languages can not read Scripture in the language of their hearts. Most can not read at all. So on going literacy programs play a large part in our ministry.

To accomplish our goal, LBT partners with individual Lutherans, a wide range of Lutheran church bodies, Bible translation organizations in North America and around the world, many other Christians, and service and educational organizations and ministries.

LBT recruits missionaries and then trains, equips and helps support them. Thousands of individuals and hundreds of volunteers provide support to individual missionaries and to LBT through prayer and through their generous, ongoing financial donations.

Since our founding in 1964, through the grace of God, LBT missionaries have helped complete over 30 New Testament translations.

These translations bring Christ's Good News of Salvation, and literacy, to more than 7 million people. Nationals and local churches in host countries play a vital, ongoing role in this work.

At present, LBT missionaries are serving in 15 countries working on 31 Bible translation and 54 Scripture use or linguistic programs.

LUTHERAN BIBLE TRANSLATORS, INC.

USA: PO Box 2050
Aurora, IL 60507-2050
(630) 897-0660
1-800-532-4253
Email: Info@LBT.org
Website: www.LBT.org

CANADA: Box 934
Kitchener, Ontario N2G 4E3
(519) 742-3361

