Faith Comes By Hearing

The Anyi New Testament was dedicated in 1998. However, 20 years later many Anyi can't take advantage of the written word. Some have vision problems, some find literacy too difficult, and some find that hearing is more effective than reading. FAITH COMES BY HEARING is a program that records Scripture in local languages, makes it available on a small device called a Proclaimer, and organizes groups in the local churches that commit to meeting at least once a week to listen to a biblical passage and discuss it. Over a period of 40 weeks, the entire New Testament is read and discussed. The program emphasizes listening groups so that questions and doubts of the listeners can be addressed.

After recording the Anyi New Testament, six Anyi speakers (above) were trained last June to lead discussion groups. In their hands are the Proclaimers, which can run on solar power, if necessary.

Personal News

The past months have passed in a blur of added work, wonderful house guests, and innumerable meetings and events, including four weddings. One of these was the wedding of my youngest son, Martin, and his fiancée, Eileen Roney. In a lovely outdoor setting north of Seattle, Washington, they exchanged heart-felt personal vows and began their life as a married couple.

Thanks to all of you for your prayers and partnership.

I thank God for good health and a continued involvement in the work of sharing the Good News with the people of West Africa.

Thanks for your prayers and partnership,
